

Ocean Optics and Mavericks Diving Present

The Great Diving Adventure

An Evening with Jack Jackson, Under Water Explorer and Adventurer

www.jackjackson.co.uk

Thursday 23 March, 7 for 7.30pm

On behalf of Ocean Optics and Mavericks Diving I'd like to invite you to "An Evening with Jack Jackson". Jack is one of this country's leading adventurers and a distinguished authority on adventurous dive travel. I am delighted that Jack has agreed to be our opening speaker for a series of presentations to be given by some of the most celebrated and respected underwater explorers, film makers and stills photographers in diving. Entitled "The Great Diving Adventure", each presentation is designed to captivate, inspire and excite. It's time to replace the phrase "recreational scuba" with adventure sport once again and recall why we all got into diving in the first place!

Jack Jackson defines that spirit. His life has long typified the road less travelled. For almost forty years Jack has been driven to seek out one adventure after another in jungles and deserts, atop mountain peaks and on polar ice caps and beneath the seas and oceans around the globe. He has funded his extraordinary life style through superlative photography and acclaimed narratives published worldwide. In the highly competitive field of adventure photo journalism, Jack has continually pushed the limits of the possible to keep his work in demand and his name at the forefront of the genre.

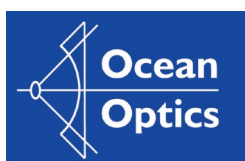

Jack is also a prolific author of dive guides, including the acclaimed "Top Dive Sites of the World". With thirteen titles to his credit at the last count, and no doubt more to follow, it's almost certain you'll find some of his titles on your own bookshelf. If you'd like them signed, please bring them along. Jack's books include many of the popular and respected New Holland Dive sites series such as "Malaysia and Singapore", "The Philippines" and "Aruba, Bonaire and Curacao". He is also responsible for "Diving with Sharks" and a consultant for "The Underwater Photography Handbook".

It's going to be a great evening of awesome images presented by an engaging and wonderfully politically incorrect raconteur. Jack Jackson is one of diving's great characters and if you've never before caught Jack in action, this is not an event to miss. And if you have seen Jack before, you'll need no persuading to catch him again.

On behalf of the Ocean Optics/Mavericks Diving team we hope you can make it and look forward to your company on the 23rd. Admission is free, but you must pre register and pick up your ticket at the showrooms on the night. The presentation will be held at Kings College opposite the shop and will last an hour or so.

Best wishes

Steve and the team.
